DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 12 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 12, it is unclear how the received data can be transmitted from a home agent while the data has not been received at the home agent.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 12 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Baker in view of Admitted Prior Art (APA) (paragraph 0010 of the specification).

Regarding claims 12, Baker discloses a method for data flow control in a distributed data communication system, comprising: receiving at a router (bridge in figure 1) data intended for a remote user (mobile unit 22); and transmitting the received data to a foreign agent (relaying agent), the foreign agent being co-located with a network access point (21), whereby the foreign agent de-capsulates the data (see col. 3, lines 33-40 and 51-53 where one of the functions of the access point acts as relaying agent is to perform de-capsulating as the foreign agent claimed in claim 12). Baker does not specifically disclose the received data is transmitted from a home agent to the foreign agent. However, the APA, paragraph 1007, discloses this limitation. Therefore, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to transmit the received data from the home agent to the foreign agent as taught by the APA in the system of Baker in order to find the location of the remote user and forward the received data to the remote user.

Regarding claim 13, Baker discloses encapsulating but does not specifically disclose a home agent encapsulates the data destined to a current care-of-address of the remote user. However, this feature is well known in the art. The APA discloses the home agent performs encapsulating (see paragraph 1007). Therefore, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to encapsulate the data by the home agent as taught by the APA in the system of Baker in order to protect the data for transmission.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed 5/12/06 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.
6. The applicant argued that the examiner fails to point out where Baker discloses a foreign agent. The examiner disagrees because in col. 3, lines 33-40, Baker discloses the foreign agent (relaying agent) being co-located with access point 21, whereby the foreign agent de-capsulate the packet. The function of the relaying agent is the same as the function of the foreign agent which is to de-capsulate the data. This teaching can also be found in the Background Art, paragraph 1007. The reason for combining the APA with Baker is to check for the current location of the remote user at the home agent and forward the data to the user.

Art Unit: 2616

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 9-11 and 22-23 are allowed.

Conclusion

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
